

The Light of the Lantern

In the remote village of Nalgarh, a girl named Meera found an old lantern in her attic. With no electricity, she used it to study each night. Inspired, she taught other children under its glow. Her small light sparked a movement, bringing education and change to Nalgarh.